

WOAH!!!

HOLD UP BOYS!
Do we really need
all this FIRE POWER?

A few month back I was having a conversation with one of our oldest customers and he asked me this question. "Based on what you learned as a contractor and what you have learned from other contractors over the years what would you buy if you were still in the business. Taking the question for 'face value' and no other considerations these are my answers. Just remember - it is only an opinion. -JA
