Winning the rinse race.

Speed-X-777

When you're washing a building, most of your time on the job is spent rinsing rinsing rinsing, right?

Stop wasting your time. Just add the quick-rinse additive Speed-X-777 to any alkaline detergent. Then when you rinse, you'll see the soap explode off the surface, along with all the dirt. You'll be done before you know it.

Sure, you may feel a little silly for having wasted so many of your work hours rinsing. But instead, we think you should feel smart for discovering Speed-X-777. Learn more at envirospec.com/Chem_SpeedX.htm

Stop all that scrubbing.

Bond Breaker

Did you know that pollutants attach themselves to painted metal surfaces through electrostatic bonding — a process commonly known as static cling?

Bond Breaker, EnviroSpec's premier car and truck detergent does just as the name implies: it breaks that invisible bond, on a chemical level. So instead of applying, scrubbing, then rinsing, you simply apply and rinse. The hardest, most time-consuming part is done for you. And the job is finished sooner.

So will you go home early, or use the extra time to go out and earn more money? EnviroSpec can't help you with everything — you'll have to make that decision yourself.
